1 SPEAKING Describe the photo. How often do you tidy and clean your bedroom?

This is the bedroom of a teenage girl. The girl is sitting on her bed and using her laptop. The room is quite untidy: there are clothes, a plastic bag and other things on the floor, on the bed and on the desk.

- 2  4.09 Read and listen to three teenagers talking about household chores. Who helps most with the housework: Marvin, Harriet, or James? Who helps least?

@Marvin How do I help round the house? I'm afraid I don't do much housework, actually. I occasionally do the hoovering, but I have to do a lot of homework every evening. It takes ages, so I haven't got time for much housework.

@Harriet My mum is a single parent, so my sister Emma and I try to help her with the housework. We make our beds every morning. Then after we've had breakfast, I usually do the washing up. At the weekend, Emma often does the cleaning while mum and I take the bus into town and do the shopping.

@James I do my best to help with the housework, but it's difficult to find the time. I tidy my bedroom once a week and I sometimes take the rubbish out or help mum to make the dinner. My brother, Max, has a lot of arguments with our parents about housework. He does nothing to help.

PLEASE BRING ME A GLASS OF WATER.

PLEASE TAKE A GLASS OF WATER.

WHICH ONE IS CORRECT?

- ✓ PLEASE BRING ME A GLASS OF WATER.
- ✓ PLEASE TAKE A GLASS OF WATER.

LOOK OUT! bring and take

The verbs bring and take both mean 'to move or carry something / somebody with you when you go somewhere'. However, we use:

a bring when the direction of travel is towards the speaker:

Please bring me a glass of water.

b take when the direction of travel is away from the speaker:

Don't forget to take your homework to school.
